AFTERNOON TEA AT FOGGS

When Phileas Fogg of No. 7 Saville Row and his newly employed valet Passepartout set out to circumnavigate the world in only 80 days, it must have been a daunting prospect to go that much time without traditional home comforts.

Throughout his journey, Fogg would stumble across all kinds of exotic dishes and ingredients, but we'd like to think that just before catching the 2045hrs train from Charing Cross, he'd have enjoyed one last bite of spectacular Englishness just like this afternoon tea we present to you today.

OUR PASTRIES

Our cakes and pastries are all made from scratch by our big-sister downstairs, Heidi bakery. If you're interested in seeing the chefs make them, head to the Ground Floor of Daniel where you should be able to peek inside the open kitchen. If you'd like to buy some more to take-away, just ask the staff at the front counter!

OUR LOCATION

We're located inside Daniel department store, which celebrated its 100th anniversary this year of 2018. The store is still family-run, with the 5th and 6th generations of the Daniel family heading up day-to-day operations, including the three restaurants within the store.

Daniel is proud to hold a Royal Warrant for the supply of Gifts to HM The Queen.
